

DEMOCRACY MATTERS

*With Eugene Robinson
& remarks from Colleen Marshall*

Please join us for a special dinner event with Eugene Robinson.

Eugene Robinson's remarkable story-telling ability has won him wide acclaim, most notably as the winner of the 2009 Pulitzer Prize for his commentary on the 2008 Presidential race that resulted in the election of America's First African American President.

In his three decades at the Washington Post, Mr. Robinson has held many roles, including city hall reporter, city editor, foreign correspondent in Buenos Aires and London, foreign editor.

Eugene saw, long before the states were split into red and blue, that politics and culture are always intertwined. From his perspective he will explain to our high school teachers and student guests how the great trends that are reshaping our democratic society are also reshaping our neighborhoods, our families and ourselves.

We hope you will be able to join us. Registration and additional information about this event is available now!
